

Midwives For Haiti and Birth Matters present:

Monday, June 20 at 7pm

Firehouse Theater

1609 W. Broad Street.

Doors open at 6:30 pm.

Documentary will be followed by a panel discussion.

Suggested donation: $10

Welcome to Haiti, where 1 in 44 women die from complications resulting from childbirth. Midwives For Haiti, founded by a Richmond midwife, is working to reverse this trend by training women in Haiti to provide skilled care before and during birth.

This 20 minute documentary describes the educational program of Midwives For Haiti. Follow local filmmaker Nathan McCann as he interviews founder Nadene Brunk, CNM, as well as students, graduates and mothers in Haiti.

Midwives For Haiti believes that every woman in this world deserves the knowledge and care to have a safe pregnancy and birth.

Learn more at www.MidwivesForHaiti.org or view the film's trailer at:
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T9y1yY9F-5g>.

Midwives
For Haiti

facebook.com/MidwivesForHaiti

@Midwives4Haiti

Birth
Matters
Virginia

www.MidwivesForHaiti.org